

EL LLANO ESTACADO RESOURCE CONSERVATION
AND DEVELOPMENT COUNCIL, INC.

FISCAL YEAR – 2010

The El Llano Estacado RC&D is proud to report that our Council began sponsoring an annual Alternative Energy Conference in 2008. Interest was over whelming and attendance surpassed all expectations. In 2008 815 registrations were received with 950 in 2009. The local city and Tucumcari Economic Development Corp and state governments and New Mexico Economic Development Corporation gave tremendous support in planning and advertising. We had over 100 exhibitors at the trade show with sponsorships up to $20,000. Speakers were leading national authorities on wind, solar, thermal and bio energy from all over North America. The information brought to these energy summits has resulted in 26 individual Private Land Owner Associations being formed throughout New Mexico and Southern Colorado. The individual associations have formed a state association to represent them on a larger scale. There are 4 major wind farms in production at present, several more in the planning and construction phase. For more information or next scheduled Energy Conference please contact us.
