Grow Local Gillette

Assisting Communities sponsor local markets for farmers and small business entrepreneurs.

Local farmers markets provide opportunities for local small business to sell locally produced products including vegetables, meats, baked goods, arts and crafts. RC&D is helping make markets happen by assisting with training, partnerships, promotion and community feedback tools.

Gillette Farmers Market

The Gillette Farmers Market is a collaborative effort that involves community gardeners, small business and local people. This effort helps to make the concept of "local" really matter.
